IRB-HSBS: Turnaround Time by Review Type

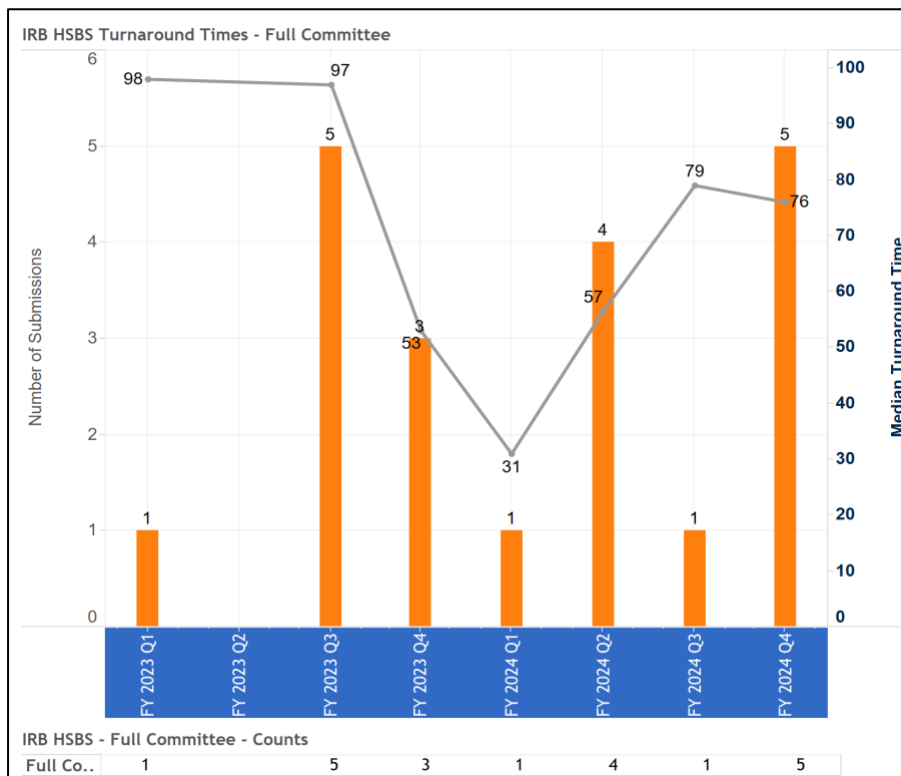

The graphs and numbers below represent the broadest range used to calculate median turnaround time (TAT), which is from the study team’s initial submission to the IRB determination. This median TAT calculation encompasses:

- The initial review of the application by the IRB Office for completeness and accuracy,
- Required application changes to be made by the study team and submitted to the IRB,
- IRB assignment to the committee/reviewer once the application criteria are met, and
- IRB determination.
